WHO SHOULD ATTEND?
The Twenty-Sixth Annual UC Davis National Child Abuse and Neglect Conference and accompanying institutes are designed for professionals involved in the investigation, evaluation, and treatment of abused and neglected children and caregivers. The conference is planned to advance knowledge and practice standards of professionals in the fields of medicine, nursing, social work, mental health, and criminal and juvenile justice. For workshop descriptions, visit www.canconference.com

TWO CONFERENCES WITHIN A CONFERENCE
California Drug Endangered Children (DEC) Institute
Significant developments are occurring throughout the nation in all fields regarding Drug Endangered Children (DEC). The purpose of this institute is to advance knowledge and practice standards for professionals specializing in this important field. The institute features workshops on community drug intervention strategies and the roles of law enforcement, social workers, and prosecutors in ensuring coordinated intervention for optimal outcomes. The medical, mental health, and neurodevelopmental outcomes for children are also the focus of this institute. Program sustainability and recent research are additional highlights.

Clinical Forensic Medicine Institute
Clinical forensic medicine is rapidly emerging as a field of specialized clinical practice, training, and research. Clinical forensic medicine addresses the interface of medicine and the law. The California Clinical Forensic Medical Training Center at UC Davis is on the cutting edge of this field statewide, nationally, and internationally. Interpersonal violence has given rise to this developing branch of science. Our vision is to provide leadership and support for the development of this interdisciplinary subspecialty field. This institute supports that vision by: teaching victim-centered approaches; promoting the team approach for clinical forensic medical care; endorsing and supporting victim advocacy; promoting evidence-based practice; and collaborating with all involved disciplines.

POST-CONFERENCE INSTITUTE
With Dan Siegel, MD
Daniel J. Siegel, MD is an award-winning educator and author who studies family interactions with an emphasis on how attachment experiences influence emotions, behavior, autobiographical memory and narrative, and the interface of human relationships and basic biological processes. His is the co-editor of a handbook of psychiatry and author of numerous articles, chapters, and the internationally acclaimed text, The Developing Mind: Toward a Neurobiology of Interpersonal Experience (1999). He co-authored with Mary Hartzell, MEd, Parenting from the Inside Out: How a Deeper Self-Understanding Can Help You Raise Children Who Thrive (2003), which explores the application of this newly emerging view of the mind, the brain, and human relationships. Dr. Siegel's goal is to provide a scientifically grounded view of human experience to a wide audience to help facilitate the development of psychological well-being and emotional resilience across the lifespan. This one-day seminar will be exciting, moving, and ground breaking for all in attendance. See page 6 for seminar details.

EDUCATIONAL OBJECTIVES
By attending this conference, attendees should be able to:

1. Develop knowledge, skills, and abilities about the following mental health and development issues experienced by abused and neglected infants and children, and intervention strategies:
   - chronic stress in infants and young children
   - neurodevelopmental needs of children from birth to age three
   - children emerging from chaotic homes involving domestic violence, drug manufacturing, or heavy drug usage
   - male victims of sexual assault
   - traumatic bonding, traumatic grief, and recovery
   - psychotropic medication issues for abused and neglected children
   - assessing and treating sexual behavioral problems

2. Gain an understanding about interviewing, medical examinations, and findings:
   - advanced techniques in interviewing
   - extended forensic interview evaluation model
   - use of telemedicine to expand expertise of examiners in rural areas
   - literature basis for interpretation of findings in child sexual abuse cases
   - traumatic brain injury
   - fetal alcohol syndrome
   - failure to thrive and child neglect

3. Acquire knowledge about key concepts and promising practices in the field of social services intervention:
   - team decision making
   - differential response
   - disproportionality

4. Gain knowledge about the needs of children in foster care:
   - speech and language delays
   - educational issues facing children in foster care
   - working effectively with young foster children

5. Learn about new developments in clinical forensic medicine:
   - non-stranger (acquaintance) rapists as predators
   - assessment, description, and photo documentation of bodily injuries, and evidence recovery
   - consentual intercourse research study
   - evaluating the sexual assault forensic and scientific literature
   - team development

6. Acquire knowledge about Drug Endangered Children (DEC):
   - DEC as a community drug intervention strategy
   - law enforcement, social services, and prosecution roles for best outcomes
   - medical assessments, health hazards for children and first responders, and child developmental and neurodevelopmental outcomes
   - latest research developments

DISCLOSURE

As a sponsor accredited by the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education, the UC Davis Health System, Office of Continuing Medical Education must ensure balance, independence, objectivity and scientific rigor in all individually or jointly sponsored educational activities. Speakers, moderators, panel members and planning committee members participating in a sponsored activity are expected to disclose to the audience any significant financial interests or other relationships with manufacturers of commercial products and/or providers of commercial services that will be discussed in their presentations. The intent of this disclosure is not to prevent speakers with significant financial or other relationships from making presentations. Rather, disclosure allows listeners to determine if content is evidence based and free of commercial bias, and it demonstrates how speakers will resolve conflict when it exists. All presenters must agree to provide verbal disclosure prior to presentations. A complete disclosure statement and acknowledgment of commercial support for this program will be included in the syllabus provided at the activity.

CALIFORNIA AB 1195

With the passage of California Assembly Bill 1195, signed November 2005, continuing medical education courses with patient care components are required to include curricula in the subject of cultural and linguistic competency. It is the intent of the bill, which went into effect on July 1, 2006, to encourage physicians and surgeons, CME providers in the state of California, and the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education to meet the cultural and linguistic concerns of a diverse patient population through appropriate professional development. The planners, speakers and authors of this CME activity have been encouraged to address issues relevant in their topic area. In addition, a variety of resources are available to address cultural and linguistic competency, some of which will be included in the syllabus or handout materials. Additional resources and information about CA AB 1195 can be found on our website at http://cme.ucdavis.edu.
An Interpersonal Neurobiology of Psychotherapy: Relationships, the Brain, and the Development of Well-Being

This cutting edge event will enable attendees to learn the basic tenets of Interpersonal Neurobiology:

- The mind is a process that regulates the flow of energy and information
- The mind emerges within the interaction of the internal processes of the brain and body and interpersonal dynamics
- The mind develops as the genetically programmed maturation of the nervous system and is shaped by ongoing experience
- Genes and experience contribute to the formation of the brain and mind
- Experience (neural activation) shapes connections in the brain via synapse formation and neuronal growth
- Mental processes shape neural connections, which, in turn, shape mental processes

Dr. Siegel will discuss the domains of integration and how they relate to achieving self-awareness, self-acceptance, a sense of well-being, and the ability to form healthy adaptations to life’s challenges. This presentation will facilitate understanding about a new dimension to the provision of psychotherapy and interventions provided by a range of practitioners across disciplines.

CONTINUING EDUCATION CREDITS ACCREDITATION: A Maximum of 22.5 AMA PRA Category 1 Credits™

This activity has been planned and implemented in accordance with the Essential Areas and Policies of the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education (ACCME) through the joint sponsorship of The Office of Continuing Medical Education at UC Davis Health System and the CAARE Diagnostic and Treatment Center, UC Davis Children’s Hospital. The Office of Continuing Medical Education of the UC Davis Health System is accredited by the ACCME to provide continuing medical education for physicians.

Physician Credit: The Office of Continuing Medical Education of the University of California, Davis, Health System (School of Medicine, Medical Center and Medical Group) designates this educational activity for a maximum of 22.5 AMA PRA Category 1 Credits™ of the Physician’s Recognition Award of the American Medical Association. Physicians should only claim credit commensurate with the extent of their participation in the activity.

Family Physicians: Application for CME credit has been filed with the American Academy of Family Physicians. Determination of credit is pending. The following may apply CME Category 1 credit for license renewal.

Physician Assistants: The National Commission on Certification of Physician Assistants (NCCPA) states that AMA accredited Category 1 courses are acceptable for continuing medical education requirements for recertification.

Psychologists: This educational activity is recognized by the California Board of Psychology as meeting the continuing education requirements toward license renewal for California psychologist (self reporting required).

Registered Nurses: The California Board of Registered Nursing accepts CME Category 1 credit toward license renewal. On the BRN license renewal form, report the number of hours you attended (up to 22.5 hours of credit) and fill in “CME Category 1” for the provider number.

ADDITIONAL ACCREDITATIONS MFT’s and LCSW’s: UC Davis Health System Office of Continuing Medical Education, Provider No. PCE 2354. This course meets the qualifications for 22.5 hours of continuing education credit for marriage and family therapists and/or licensed clinical social workers as required by the California Board of Behavioral Sciences. Participants must attend the entire course, write license number on the roster, and complete the course evaluation to earn credit. Single day credit is 6 hours for Monday and 5.5 hours each for Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday.

Attorneys: The CAARE Diagnostic and Treatment Center certifies that an application to approve this activity for MCLE credit is pending with the State Bar of California.

UC DAVIS HEALTH SYSTEM CME MISSION

The Office of Continuing Medical Education at the University of California, Davis, Health System (School of Medicine, Medical Center and Medical Group) offers physicians and other health-care professionals educational opportunities that foster excellence in patient care. In concert with the overall mission of the UC Davis Health System, our endeavor is supported by the Office of Continuing Medical Education Advisory Committee to ensure that activities comply with the Essentials and Standards of the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education. We support the concept of continuous undergraduate, graduate and post-graduate medical education throughout the lifetime of the health-care professional. To achieve our mission, we support the expansion of both traditional and innovative modes of learning.
WORKSHOP ASSIGNMENTS AND TUITION
Workshop space is limited. Sessions will be assigned in the order in which registrations are received, and workshops will be closed for new enrollment once filled. Second choices will be accommodated whenever possible. Priority will be given to three-day registrants. Please note those workshops that are conducted in multiple parts or repeated. Tuition includes continental breakfast and breaks each day, lunch for those enrolled on Monday, and Tuesday’s reception with no-host beverages.
